How to read this catalogue

Every price in this document was transcribed from our own online store on the date of issue shown on the cover, so the figures here and the figures a customer sees at checkout are the same. Where an item is on offer, the crossed-out figure is the regular price. Items marked with an asterisk appear twice in the store under separate records at different prices; the higher figure is the current one and the older record is due to be retired. To update this document, increment the revision number, add a line to the revision history above, and re-verify prices against the store on the same day.
